All very odd. 12319 is an LG6 chassis number. 12318 has engine 457, so LG6/459/S4 is not only correct, but undoubtedly original to this chassis. It seems though, definitely no connection to the vehicle photographed/advertised!

I have just been told, from a reliable source, that the 'orphaned' LG45 DHC has now been bought by an American chap. I only hope that he knows what he's doing, since I am more convinced than ever that it was stolen a few decades back.

If anyone has any contact with the purchaser, I'd be glad to share the fruits of my research in this regard.

Hello TVJL, how can I get in touch with you. I have the LG45 DHC under contract and would like to know your findings before I complete contract.

Hi Arjan

We would love to see a photo of the chassis plate for this car published on this forum...

Hi Colin,

The LG45 DHC doesn't have a chassis plate attached. It's one of the several reasons (I think) that the car has not sold over the last 18 months or so that the Club has known about it's 'reemergence'.

Regards,

Tim

Please do take note of what Tim says, Caveat Emptor with this car.

When the car was available from the private vendor 18 months ago at much a cheaper price, I did not purchase for a multitude of reasons, including no ID or prior history.
