

Lagondaforum: Indicator switch

Indicator switch

Written by Machard de Gramont at Oct 02, 2010 9:04 am

Dear Friends,

I have an old broken indicator switch on my steering wheel. I need to find a new one or to restore it. Can you help me? My Lagonda is an M 35 R with T9 body.

Best regards.

Philippe Machard de Gramont

Attachments:

Capture d'écran 2010-10-02 à 10.02.29.png (filesize: 188.37 KB)

Re: Indicator switch

Written by gert at Feb 07, 2012 10:46 pm

ill see many off these this year on beaulieu so its almost may event and the where cheap 50 pounds another question ill am restoring also an m35 with t9 body and ill need an picture off the hoodframe too see how its made ill would be ferry helpt iff you could send me an picture off the side how it looks.

mine clubnr.is l23

regards gert

Re: Indicator switch

Written by Machard de Gramont at Apr 13, 2012 12:36 pm

Many thanks for your answer. My car is in England for the moment, and I live in France, I hope I will have it back for Le Mans Classic, and I will take some photographs for you. Perhaps can you give me your Email.

Regards.

Philippe