

Lagondaforum: Re-chroming

Re-chroming

Written by John Soffe at Dec 07, 2010 6:14 pm

The radiator shell on my 16/80 had many dings & dents. I have now had it re-chromed and it looks wonderful! I also had the radiator cap and two small pieces done at the same time. All were Triple plated with the repairs to the shell involving building up with copper prior to the re-chroming. All this was carried out for £400.00 which I believe is very reasonable. The guy specialises in Triumph spares but has re-chroming as a speciality. Many TR enthusiasts from Europe use him. Contact; Ken Munford on 0208 8998 1626. He is based just off the Western Avenue near to Hanger Lane (London). Ken can only be contacted by phone - modern life has yet to catch up with him!

Re: Re-chroming

Written by mandb57 at Dec 08, 2010 6:41 pm

It seems you have got a good job done at a very attractive price. I had my MG 18/80 shell repaired and copper plated in the same way a couple of years ago and it cost me significantly more at that time!

Will certainly consider your contact. Thanks for letting us know.

Mike Heins
