Wanted Windshield Parts

Written by bruffsup at Jul 03, 2011 5:47 pm

I am missing the adjusting parts for my windshield . If I knew what they looked like it would help as there may be a few bits amongst the 2 barnloads of junk that i had to move . Can someone please send me a picture of what the pieces look like. In most of the books I can only make out a clevis , rod and wing nut.

Email a handshake to me. My address is in the members handbook.

I will then send detailed photos direct.

Brian Savill.

You can ask Wessex workshop in England, they made a pair for my car. It was perfect.
