Lagonda V12 DHC for sale

One of my Lagonda friends is planning to sell his Lagonda V12 DHC. It is a genuine factory bodied drophead with fully documented history. The car is in very good condition, the engine had a complete rebuilt recently by a professional pefectionist and has done a few long trips in the mean time which showed the faultless and strong going of the car. The car is not cheap, seriously interested persons can send me an email and I will forward it.
