1955 3.0 litre coupe with sun-roof

A couple of pictures of a 3.0 litre coupe from 1955 that has been used as a parts car. It was one of the dozen or so cars found in the early 1990's on a farm, stripped of engine/box already.

The most interesting aspect of the car was what appears to be a factory fitted sun-roof. Same construction and use of ash-frame and even the lockable handle is identical to that found on the boot. When I next visit the Lagonda owner who has this car in his garden I will take some better pictures.
