Thanks! I haven't pushed it too much as the timing and mixture still needs fine tuning, I think it's running a bit rich so it's going in to be done this week. It copes well with 30mph in 4th, overall drives very well and doesn't handle like an old car. Brakes are a bit scary but this may be because they haven't bedded in yet, or is it just how a heavy 60's car is? The steering is a little heavy when stationary but you can live with it, I'm now glad I didn't fit EPAS. I'd love to know where you managed to find the air filters...I'll be in contact!
